

For Immediate Release
January 28, 2009

Contacts: Paul Cummins or Phillip Hayes
202-507-8256

North Bridge Communications Adds a New Talent to a New Address

WASHINGTON - As business continues to grow, North Bridge Communications added a new team member and moved offices in January.

Mollie O'Dell joins the firm as an account supervisor. She recently served as the Deputy Press Secretary at the U.S. Department of Transportation. Prior to that, she coordinated grassroots public affairs campaigns at DCI Group. Mollie holds a Master's Degree in Political Management from George Washington University and a B.A. in Political Science from Rhodes College in Memphis, Tennessee.

"I worked with Mollie at DCI Group, and was continually impressed with her creativity and ingenuity," said Paul Cummins, a partner with North Bridge Communications. "She is an excellent addition to our team."

Mollie will manage part of North Bridge Communications' growing energy practice and assist with the company's agricultural clients.

North Bridge Communications also announced that their offices have relocated to 1828 L. St. NW, Suite 350, Washington, D.C., 20036. The firm quickly realized their need for more space as staff and clients continued to grow.

"We're excited about our new space because it will help us serve our clients even better," said Phillip Hayes, a partner North Bridge Communications. "Our new location gives us the ability to have constant dialogue with our team members as we continue to create winning campaigns for our clients."

North Bridge Communications is a DC-based communications firm that specializes in technology, agribusiness, energy, and trade. The company was co-founded by Paul Cummins and Phillip Hayes.

For more information about North Bridge Communications and its capabilities, visit www.northbridgecommunications.com.

###